Little Mombo

Moremi Game Reserve, Okavango Delta

This is also situated on Mombo Island in Moremi and is an extension to Mombo Camp, built under the shade of large shady trees and overlooking part of the same floodplain as Mombo camp itself.

Little Mombo however is all about privacy - the three tented guest rooms are a fair distance from the remainder of the camp but the camp has private communal areas (all in the same design and feel as Mombo) and a private plunge pool.

Just like at Mombo Camp the connecting walkways are up to two metres off the ground, allowing game to wander freely through the camp - but at the same time allowing for guest safety. The dining room, pub and living area overlook the open plain in front of the camp and there is a plunge pool for relaxing in the heat of the day.

The rooms themselves are designed in exactly the same way as Mombo Camp with vast luxurious tented accommodations that look over the floodplains, huge four poster beds, en suite bathrooms, outside showers and private salas for siestas in the heat of the day.

It is a fantastic camp to hire if you are a small group as you can hire the camp in full but Little Mombo also offers the perfect retreat for those of you who really want to stay away from the crowds.

Our View

Many people regard Little Mombo as the best safari camp in the world, and we agree. The huge number of all the cats and vast concentrations of virtually everything else mean that game drives are always fulfilling and regularly somewhat explosive. The Mombo concession is an animals paradise with exceptionally fertile land. The result is a predators enclave - lion sightings are often seen in the same game drive as leopard and the resident cheetah, all of whom are well known by the guides. Wild dog are also commonly sighted in the area. To put it bluntly, the game drives are unparalleled throughout Botswana. And then there is the camp itself...and the food!!
